

རིག་འཛེལ།
*Rig
Tshoel*

SUCCESS
SUCCESSFUL INTERVENTION PATHWAYS
FOR MIGRATION AS ADAPTATION

ICIMOD

ROYAL THIMPHU
COLLEGE

Special Issue on Migration, Climate Change, & Social Change
Research Journal of the Royal Thimphu College

Volume 8 | Number 1 | 2025

ISSN 2708-1850

9 772708 185006

© 2025 Royal Thimphu College

ISSN 2708-1869

9 772708 186904

A Royal Thimphu College Publication.

Royal Thimphu College
PO Box 1122
Ngabiphu, Thimphu Bhutan
www.rtc.bt

© 2025 Royal Thimphu College
All rights reserved.

Editor-in-Chief: Jelle J.P. Wouters (PhD)
Editorial Board:
Leishipem Khamrang (PhD)
Tshering Lhamo Dukpa
Stephen Victor (PhD)

Editorial correspondence may be addressed to: jjpwouters@rtc.bt

Rig Tshoel – Research Journal of the Royal Thimphu College is an open-access peer-reviewed journal intended to align with a key mission of Royal Thimphu College “stimulate new ideas, knowledge, and practices that serve to enrich people’s lives and enhance the welfare of society.” The journal aims to issue at least once a year and invites contributions on a wide range of subjects. Authors are encouraged to develop their own scholarship in areas of general relevance to Bhutan, submit work that advances knowledge in their fields, and is written in a broadly accessible manner. High-quality original articles in English and Dzongkha including theoretical and empirical research, commentaries, editorials, and reviews are welcome.

The views expressed herein are those of the authors themselves and not necessarily those of the Royal Thimphu College.

Articles published herein may be used and distributed freely provided that the works are properly cited. Digital copies are available at www.rtc.bt.

Contents

Editorial	6
Jelle J.P. Wouters
Climate Change and Migration in Bhutan: An Integrative Review	11
Kinley Dorji
Keeping Thimphu Running: The Lives and Livelihoods of City Workers	70
Choeying Seldon
Migration as a Pathway to Climate Resilience? Precarities, Adaptive Capacity, and Wellbeing in Denchukha-Thimphu Migration Corridor	86
Pema Choden & Tshering Choden
Space of Hope or Despair? Well-Being, Precarity, and Adaptive Capacity of Migrant Labourers in Thimphu and Pasakha	113
Leishipem Khamrang
Leveraging Rural-Urban Migration for a Translocal Community Economy: Lessons from an Enterprise in Shingkhari	139
Katsu Masaki & Lekden Wangchuk
Invisible and Visible Precarity in Urban Bhutan: Housing as an Analytical Lens	171
Tashi Paldon

Village Tshechu Under Depopulation: Ritual Remittance and the Moral Economy of Merit in Eastern Bhutan	194
Yoshiki Ishiuchi
Staying Back, Falling Behind? How Social Responsibilities Shape the Livelihood Choices of Sons in Rural Denchukha	226
Samiksha Rai
Migrant workers driving development: A view from Pasakha, Bhutan	247
Nima Tshering, Nitya Rao, Choeying Seldon, & Jelle J.P. Wouters
Female Migrant Workers in Bhutan's Liquor Industry: From Economic to Gendered Vulnerabilities	258
Samiksha Rai & Jelle J.P. Wouters
Human–Wildlife Conflict, Precarity and Gender Dynamics in Rural Bhutan	266
Rosmita Chhetri
Migration as Adaptation? Climate Change Resilience and Vulnerability in Bhutan	285
Namdu Lhamo, Jelle J.P. Wouters, & Binaya Pasakhala	